

WORK PROGRESSES—Workmen pour cement at the new city water filtration plant which officials termed Tuesday night was 80 percent complete. The $172,200 project is due completion this spring. Work is also underway on the new sewage disposal plant and pump intake station at Little River. Completion of the projects will give Cameron state-approved water. The federal government contributed about $52,000 for use in constructing the sewage plant.

Fund Directors Halt NM Drive

The board of directors of the North Milam United Fund Tuesday night cancelled any further efforts in the 1957-58 fund drive with about $6,000 contributed. The board met for the second time in two weeks at Ben Milam School.

Watershed Plan Goes To Voters Tuesday

Voters in the San Gabriel River watershed in Williamson, Burnet, and Milam Counties will be given a chance to vote the watershed's share of the cost of a five-million-dollar flood-prevention project in an election Tuesday, January 14. To be voted on is a $140,000 bond issue, to pay the watershed's part of approximately 50 small dams designed to prevent floods on the San Gabriel and the creeks and branches running into it. The rest of the cost will be borne by the government through the Soil Conservation Service.

Voters already have approved formation of the water district and the issuance of $10,000 in preliminary bonds. A tax rate of 6 cents on the $100 valuation will fulfill requirements to finance the bond. On a farm valued for tax purposes at $5,000, the cost would be $3 a year. There are over 500,000 acres in the district, and the cost per farm will be extremely low, directors of the San Gabriel District have pointed out. The one flood in the spring last year did more damage than the watershed's entire cost of the flood-prevention project, they added. The plan, similar to the project on Brushy Creek, is designed to hold back the run-off water from heavy rains by a series of dams on the creeks and branches of the watershed. Each dam holds back a given amount of water and then lets it flow out at a regular rate, allowing a big flood to flow down the watershed in an orderly fashion, instead of spreading out. It is difficult to estimate what the flood last spring did in damages, directors said, but in roads and bridges alone in Williamson County the damage was approximately $200,000. Hundreds of miles of fences were destroyed, and many farmers and ranchers are still working at the job of replacing them. Voting will take place at the regular voting boxes throughout the watershed. At the same election, voters will also elect five directors. Directors were elected last summer, but under the law a district has to name directors each January. Present directors, whose names will be on the ballot, are A. C. Weir and D. P. Irvine of Georgetown, C. V. Hutto of Bertram, H. B. Fox of Circleville and Henry Labaj of Friendship.

Elm Creek District To Hold Election For Four Directors

Voters in the Elm Creek Watershed will select four directors in an election Tuesday at seven polling places in the four-county district. Terms of four directors will expire Tuesday. They are W. M. Evetts, Moody; David Haggard, Oenaville; J. W. Holmes, Rogers; and Buster Griffin, Yarrington. Officials said the watershed takes in a large portion of northwest Milam County. Holdover directors are Jim Redding, Troy; Bartle Crenan, Cameron; Frank Maruno, Temple; and A. A. Stavinoha, Temple. Polling places for the election are at Troy, Little Flock, Seaton, Red Ranger, Yarrington, Oenaville and Maraville.

Milam TB Directors

To Meet Monday

The January meeting of the board of directors of Milam County Tuberculosis Association will be 7:30 p.m. Monday at Thorndale School. Directors will meet in the school lunch room, according to Mrs. Dorothy Hyder, association secretary.

RECEIVES AWARD—Max McClaren, chairman of the Milam County March of Dimes in 1957, receives a certificate of appreciation from Janice Simecek, Cameron, in behalf of the Foundation of Infantile Paralysis. Similar awards went to the A. A. McVoy family and W. T. Pearson, Rockdale for March of Dimes work. Presentations were made at a kickoff dinner Friday night at Rockdale.

March Of Dimes Sets Sights On Training

Some physically handicapped boys and girls in Milam County may grow up bearing the brunt of a critical nationwide shortage of workers trained in the care of the disabled, according to Jack Tumlinson, Milam County chairman of the 1958 March of Dimes.

They may be denied specialized care they need because there are not enough physical therapists, medical social workers, occupational therapists and other specialists to serve every hospital in the nation, Tumlinson said. He said the National Foundation for years has been giving March of Dimes fellowships and scholarships to talented young men and women to help them finish their training, Tumlinson added.

Rehabilitation Demands "But unfortunately, the task force supported in training by the March of Dimes isn't large enough to offset the nationwide shortage caused by skyrocketing demand for modern rehabilitation services." "Without trained hands and minds at the bedside and wheel chair to translate theories into action, modern rehabilitation is nothing more than an empty dream for those who have been injured by disease and accident." Modern rehabilitation, according to Tumlinson, depends on the team approach—doctors, nurses, medical social workers, physical therapists, occupational therapists and others working together to help solve the patient's problems.

Urges Support

To bolster the outlook for those handicapped by polio and other crippling diseases in Milam County, Tumlinson urged all residents to make generous contributions to the March of Dimes fund drive.

The professional education program of the March of Dimes is the largest of any voluntary health agency, he explained. Already it has supported in short and long term training nearly 7,000 men and women. A total of $28,000,000 in March of Dimes funds has been invested in this program.

"Without this professional education program there might not have been a Salk vaccine," Tumlinson said. "Early in his career Jonas E. Salk received a fellowship made possible by the National Foundation. Years later, the Foundation financed Dr. Salk's research which developed the vaccine."

Report Shows $18,360 Damage In Cameron Fires During '57

The City Council Tuesday night voted to continue a free parking policy on Saturday afternoons in Cameron and heard reports on 1957 fire damage.

Three Cameron businessmen presented a 100-name petition asking that parking meter enforcement again be dropped on Saturdays. Enforcement went back into effect last Saturday after about a three-month period of free Saturday parking.

Appearing before the council in behalf of the petition were Leland Green, Jr., Franklin Dusek and Frank Stewart.

City Secretary Wayne Wieser read an annual report from Fire Marshall John Eanes that listed $18,360.67 in 1957 fire damage and one life lost.

His report said October fires caused $4,769.61 in damage for the heaviest monthly damage during the year. December fires caused $3,847.25 in damage.

The volunteer firemen answered 65 calls during the year, Eanes wrote.

In other action the council:

ONE—Rejected a maintenance agreement with the Texas Highway Department that would combine all previous road maintenance agreements. Liability for damage suits was the basis for rejection.

TWO—Discussed installation of 30-m.p.h. speed limit signs along the three major arteries in Cameron. Chief Maynard Byers asked that signs be placed on both sides of the streets entering and leaving the city.

THREE—Tabled acceptance of a low bid of $3,415 for a chlorinator and accompanying construction for the filtration plant pending consultation with engineers.

FOUR—Rejected payment of $961.55 to a sub-contractor who is threatening suit for lost-time payment during litigation over waterline right-of-way last summer.

FIVE—Approved roping off Tyson Street from Houston to Travis for the Chamber Stock Show February 15.

SIX—Asked that Works Supt. W. D. Bigbee check needs for installing additional street lights in north Cameron.

Discussion of the meter enforcement problem brought a challenge from City Atty. Jack Prescott who said the council should establish a definite policy on handling the meters.

Miss McGehee was born Sept. 19, 1891, in Cameron and lived here all her life. She was a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Eastern Star and the Baptist Church.

Gun Care Follows Hunting Fun

By Vera Sanford

Right now most of us are putting our rifles away for a long time. We've been through a successful big game season, with more deer, antelope and javelinas killed in Texas than for many years. All have been in good condition.

Chances are you have a big bore rifle. It may be an ordinary lever action, a converted military model or a new model bolt or semi-automatic. Whatever it is, it deserves the best treatment you can give it.

If you've already sacked it away without a good cleaning job, then for your gun's sake, stop reading right now and clean that fowling piece.

While it is true that today's ammunition is loaded with non-corrosive primers, there still is residue in the barrel, and sweat marks on the outside. All must be removed. Run a good oil patch through the barrel, then give the gun a rubdown with a good gun oil, like Hoppe's, or with a silicon cloth.

If you store your gun in a case, be sure there is no moisture in the case, or that no sweating is possible. Otherwise you may come up with a ruined gun. Finding rust flecks on a favorite gun isn't a comfortable feeling.

Store For Safety

Storage of your gun is just as important. Every man would like to have a good metal or even a knotty pine gun cabinet. But not every man can. Some keep their guns behind the bedroom door. Others keep them sitting in the corner. But mostly they are stored in closets.

All this is dangerous, especially when there are children.

If you are one who keeps a gun in your closet, then be sure it is cased, and that no ammunition is left around. A child simply cannot resist the temptation of playing with a gun, or trying to insert cartridges in one.

For safety's sake, it is best to give your child a good gun education. Take him (or her) out into the hills or onto the target range and let him learn just exactly what a gun is for and what it can do. Explain that children must not handle a gun themselves until they have had enough experience. Most children, taken into your confidence, will respect your wishes.

There are thousands of homes where guns sit around the house or are thrown around in automobiles, and children pay little or no attention to them. Generally speaking, however, a little gun education for the child is very wise.

Crow Shooting Is Fun

Ever try crow shooting? This is fine sport after the regular hunting season is over. These black rascals do lots of harm both in the field and to the young bird and animal life. They probably destroy more pecans and peanuts every year than are eaten by people.

There are many interesting forms of crow shooting. One of the simplest is to hide in the brush around a known crow area, with a call. A good call can be bought for a dollar or so and very little practice is required to lure in the crows, fighting mad. As they soar in, blast away.

This is a mighty good way to use up old ammunition. Most hunters have a box or two of old shotgun shells. Why not burn yours up on crows this year?

Get a group of kindred souls together and contact some farmer who is pestered with crows. He'll be glad to let you shoot crows in the woods at the edge of his field. That is, if you'll assure him you won't shoot his livestock.

Many hunters like to kill off crows with scope-fitted, high-speed rifles. This is fun. Also dangerous. Extreme care should be used in this type of shooting. These high-speed bullets fly to pieces easily upon contact with anything. But if they don't happen to hit the target at the right time, they may continue on to hit something they shouldn't.

Game Warden Can Help You

Incidentally, the game warden is a good friend of the outdoorsman. He can be of great help to you in finding good places to hunt and fish.

Usually he and your county agent will know landowners who don't object to reasonable shooting. They'll even let you fish on their places if you ask them the right way.

These game wardens are very human persons. They are good citizens of your community and will be glad to help you every way they can.

You can help them, too. If you know someone who is killing game illegally, tip off the warden. If you have a question about the game laws, talk with him about it. That way there will be a much better understanding all around.

SS Beneficiaries

Must Report Income Exceeding $1200

Most social security beneficiaries who earned over $1200 in 1957 must make special reports to the Social Security Administration by April 15, 1958, according to Holly E. Rees, district manager of the Bryan social security office.

Failure to file these reports could result in the loss of additional social security benefits.

Rees stated that this part of the law does not apply to all beneficiaries. For instance, a person who was age 72 during all months of 1957 will not be required to file a report, as all persons age 72 or over are entitled to all their social security benefits regardless of the amount of their annual earnings.

But if there was one or more months during 1957 that a person was under 72 and had earnings of over $1200 the annual report must be filed.

Earnings which must be reported include all wages earned as an employee and all net earnings from self-employment whether or not such income is covered for social security purposes.

These earnings include gross wages before any deductions are made, vacation pay, bonuses, commissions, fees, and the like. Income from dividends, savings, pensions, investments, or insurance should not be counted with earnings, as such amounts are not considered as income for social security purposes.

12 Cases Reported

The Milam County Health Unit this week reported six cases strept throat, one mumps, four pneumonia and one gonorrhea case for the week ending January 4.

Cases continue to crop up which indicate that not all vegetable growers are fully aware of the provisions of the Miller Amendment. This Federal Act sets the residual tolerances for insecticides used on vegetables, says F. M. Fuller, extension entomologist.

Service To Install New Lodge Officers

SAN ANTONIO—Spl.—Annual installation ceremonies for officers of seven Hermann Sons lodges including the Cameron lodge will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Hermann Sons Hall in Marlin.

Officiating at the ceremony will be Rudy W. Stappenbeck, Sr., grand trustee of the statewide fraternal order. He will be assisted by Walter Prescher, Hermann Sons district supervisor for North Central Texas. Prescher is from Clifton.

Marlin, Temple, Holland, Buschthal, Cameron and Burlington Hermann Sons lodges will have their officers installed.

Check Farm Records

C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist, says it is time to total the balance sheets on the farm business for 1957 and to take a long look at what happened during the past year. Good farm and home records are a real asset to families if properly used, says the specialist.

Increase Machinery are

Up to 30 percent can be added to the life of farm machinery by giving it proper winter care. With the continuing price-cost squeeze, proper machinery care, says W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer, can cut farm expenses and increase profits.

USDA Announces 2 New Varieties Of Watermelons

COLLEGE STATION — Plant breeders of the U. S. Department of Agriculture have recently added two new improved varieties of watermelons to the wide assortment already available to growers.

The newcomers—Blackstone and Garrisonian—both combine several points expected to appeal to growers, shippers, retailers and consumers, according to Blueford Hancock, extension horticulturist. Seed of both varieties are available through the usual commercial sources.

Blackstone is expected to fill, in part, the long-standing need for a round, dark green disease-resistant watermelon to replace the present Black Diamond type, says Hancock. Fruit of the new variety has a dark-green color commonly referred to as black, and has a hard rind similar to the Black Diamond type.

The other new variety, Garrisonian, matches the high eating quality of the Garrison and has the added advantage of a hard rind, making it suitable for shipment and commercial marketing, says the horticulturist. Another improvement is resistance to anthracnose to which Garrison is susceptible.

Garrisonian is also more resistant to sunburn. It resembles Garrison in size, shape, color, and flesh quality. Weighing 40 to 60 pounds, the fruits are long and distinctively striped with light and dark green. The Garrisonian, like the Garrison, has little appeal to Texas growers.

fair condition, he continued, but not much growth is expected during the near freezing weather of recent weeks.

Good moisture conditions will cause grazing oats to respond to warm weather, Moore said.

Most of the cotton harvest was completed by the first of the year, Moore said.

Livestock conditions remain good. Sound management practices will pay dividends during winter months.

The peanut crop is almost complete, according to Moore. He reminded county farmers that a meeting to discuss sweet potato crops is set for January 20 in Rockdale.

1957... Boom, Boom, Boom

The year 1957 in Cameron should be remembered for more than the 53.68 inches of rain measured here.

It should be noted that at least $1,277,678.57 was set aside for construction and improvement of homes, and improvement of public facilities and businesses in Cameron.

Yes, that figure is correct. May we repeat: $1,277,678.57.

In a city of 7,000 people, that much money for building projects could be considered a boom.

Actual building permit figures from City Hall list improvements or construction totaling $664,788.72.

In four contracts let for construction of the new city sewage and water filtration system, a total of $392,890 was contracted. The total includes $172,200 for the filtration plant; $147,166 for the sewage disposal system; $42,543.85 for raw waterlines; and $30,980 for the Little River intake station.

The federal housing project accounted for the major portion of building permit totals with a contract for construction totaling $452,410.72.

Add to these figures about $150,000 for construction of the Wilson Elevators, $30,000 for improvements to the Cameron Postoffice, about $30,000 for the new Church of Christ and at least $10,000 for other construction in the school and other businesses. You get the $1,277,678.57 total.

It goes without question that this much money being spent for construction means a lot of payroll money to be spent in Cameron.

Compare the Cameron total with the $351,095 recorded in building permits in Rockdale during 1957. It is not an indication of which way the boom is going?

And our 1957 total compares favorably with a peak building year in Rockdale of $1,430,974 in building permits during 1954.

About $150,000 to $200,000 was recorded in building permits for new homes and home improvements in 1957. That does not include moving any buildings.

The year 1957 was obviously a bumper year for Cameron in construction. We believe that Cameronites showed great confidence in Milam's county seat in spending hundreds of thousands for home and business construction.

We believe that Cameron is reaffirming her position in Central Texas as a residential and business leader.

Capitol Report

January Marks Time To Pay Poll Taxes

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN—January is poll tax month.

Officially, poll tax sales begin in October. But nobody pays too much attention.

However, after the first of the year, organized drives get under way, in a deadline-month appeal to induce citizens to protect their right to vote by payment of the poll tax.

But a good percentage of potential voters ignore it all. Many, jolted at the last minute, flood into courthouses after knocking off work Jan. 31. Penalty for the putter-offers is usually a long wait in line.

Many more never get there at all. Texas Almanac reports show that in past non-presidential elections years, less than half the potential voters paid poll taxes or secured exemptions.

Poll tax costs $1.75 and usually may be secured at several different places in every community. No charge for 21-year-olds getting their first vote and those 60 years and over, but an exemption certificate must be obtained. (Persons living outside cities of 10,000 or more may vote on affidavit without an exemption certificate.)

Deadline for poll tax payment is midnight, Jan. 31.

Safety Program Pays Off

Texas traffic deaths fell below the Department of Public Safety prediction for the Christmas-New Year holiday period, as a result of the concerted efforts of the Governor's Safety Program.

DPS predicted that 113 persons would die on Texas highways. Final number probably will be 103.

Both Governor Daniel and DPS Director Homer Garrison Jr. had high praise for Texas citizens, law enforcement officers and news media, for the success of the program. "Much of the credit should go to the newspapers, radio and TV which played a major role in aiding law enforcement and focusing public attention on the increased driving hazards of the holiday season," Garrison stated.

Twice As Much Water

New State Water Development Board has set up shop with the aim of doubling Texas' water storage space. Board members predict the program will bring the state an additional $600,000,000 in conservation projects without cost to state tax payers.

Board is authorized to raise $100,000,000 by selling bonds at four per cent interest... and another $100,000,000 later, on say-so of Legislature. This money can be lent at 5 per cent interest to help pay up to one-third of cost of local conservation projects.

"I firmly believe the program will be self-liquidating," said Board Vice-Chairman W. E. (Buck) Tinsley of Austin.

Board hired Joe Carter as its $10,000-a-year executive secretary. Carter was legal counsel to the State Board of Water Engineers until animosity from two board members forced his resignation last spring.

After that, Carter served on Gov. Price Daniel's staff, assisting with water legislation drafting. He is a former state senator from Sherman.

Breather For Schools

Some 600 still-segregated school districts in Texas are more relaxed now. Many had feared that court-enforced integration in Texas would begin this winter in Dallas.

Federal Judge A. T. Atwell of Dallas ruled last year that Dallas schools must integrate at mid-term (January, 1958). But a higher court (U. S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans) overruled. It said Dallas school officials should be given "a reasonable further opportunity" to plan for integration. For Dallas, this would have meant $1,500,000 a year.

THE LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER

New Year Predictions Bring Puzzled Look To Sage's Eye

By J. A.

Dear editor:

The new year is already well underway, I know, but I've just now gotten around to a stack of newspapers I'd been saving the last few days and have now checked over the predictions by the experts for 1958.

First, take the economic outlook. According to them, the economic situation is going to be both good and bad, first we're going to have a dip, then a climb, or it may be the other way around... either the first half of the year will be better than the last half, or the last half better than the first.

What this means to me is that I'll probably be trying to climb when everything is dipping and dipping when everything is climbing. I've never found an expert yet who could tell me when the economic picture is going to change. Although they all are pretty good at finding out what took place after it's already happened, which is something I've been doing on my own for years. I've never had to read a newspaper to find out whether times were good or bad out here on this farm. There are some things a man ought to know without being told. Or take the international situation.

Some of the experts say the situation is fraught with uncertainty, but I don't agree with this. The foreign situation is fraught with certainty. It's going to be bad, like it always is.

For example, Washington leaders expressed the New Year's hope that the new year will bring "a better understanding between the Russian and American people."

I don't know about the Russians, but you can't get a better understanding than we've already got of them. We understand the Russians thoroughly, and on that basis we're working night and day on our defenses. Our understanding of the Russians is like a pioneer's understanding of the Indians. He didn't know what they were up to but he knew it wasn't good for him.

On the farm front, the experts are a little vague, they can't make up their minds what's going to happen, but I have a pretty good idea. The farm situation in 1958 will be about like it was in 1957, which was about like it was in 1956, etc. It never is as bad as it could be or as good as it ought to be. However, since nothing else is either, I intend to take my chances right here without worrying. There's no use in me and Congress both worrying about it. Yours faithfully, J. A.

A warning that 1 oz. and 3 oz. bottles of Gebhardt Eagle Chili Powder may contain glass fragments has been issued by the Food and Drug Administration and the manufacturer, Gebhardt Chili Powder Company, San Antonio, according to county health authorities. The product has nationwide distribution.

The firm has recalled lots of 1 oz. bottles in possession of warehouses and wholesalers. Since then, 3 oz. bottles containing glass have been located by FDA. The product may be in homes that cannot be reached by the recall and some stocks may still be on the retail market, officials said.

Consumers were warned by the FDA that the use of this chili powder may cause internal injuries. They should destroy any bottles in their possession or return them to the stores where they were purchased. Retailers were advised to return all stocks of 1 oz. and 3 oz. bottles of the powder to the manufacturer.
